We've been using Air Emailer for almost two years, for sending email marketing campaigns to our clients. We are really happy not only with the results, but also with the easiness to use and detailed metrics, and specially with the great customer service, that always helps fast and with great humor.

I have been using Air Emailer for almost a year as a way of advertising my products and services for clients and prospects. I recommend it because the usability of the tool is very simple, intuitive and has corresponded to my expectations.

How Marketers Grow Their Email Lists

Requiring registration either to gain access to restricted areas within a website or to download premium content is the most effective tactic marketers say they use to grow their email lists, according to a recent report from Ascend2.

The report was based on data from a global survey of 251 marketing, sales, and business professionals from various-sized companies, 71% of them B2B-focused, and 29% B2C.

Some 43% of survey respondents say requiring registration to access parts of their website is one of the most effective tactics they use to get email addresses, and 42% say requiring an email address to download certain content is one of the most effective tactics.

Most Difficult Tactics

- 40% of respondents say social media sharing is one of the most difficult tactics used for email list growth.
- 39% say paid search is one of the most difficult tactics.
